

Meditation for People with Impaired Attention after Stroke

You are being invited to take part in a research study about meditation after stroke. Meditation can be defined as an activity where you practice focusing your attention. Mantra meditation is a type of meditation in which a word or syllable is repeated. The researchers would like to see if mantra meditation helps improve attention after stroke. If you volunteer to take part in this study, you will be one of up to 4 people to do so.

You may be eligible to participate if you:

- Are between 18-70 years old;
- Have had a stroke over 1 year ago; and
- Have problems paying attention.

Participants may be eligible for compensation up to a total of $25.

For more information, please contact:

Cheryl Carrico, MS, OT/L

Phone: 859-533-0616

Email: cheryl.carrico@uky.edu

An Equal Opportunity University